

Fattidipietra Table

By Gumdesign for PRIMAR

Description

The Contemporary Fattidipietra Table draws from primary forms and familiar domestic references, reinterpreting them through material and proportion. Lecce stone forms the structural core of the piece, while steel introduces a contemporary accent and the glass top visually lightens the overall composition. Part of a collection inspired by the idea of rediscovery, Fattidipietra creates a subtle dialogue between past and present. Designed to work in both intimate and open spaces, it offers a quiet, essential presence suited to everyday use while maintaining a strong material identity. Made in Italy.
