

Monolithus Table

By Apospersano for PRIMAR

Description

The Contemporary Monolithus Table, designed by Apospersano, brings together the warmth of linden wood and the substantial presence of natural stone in a clean elliptical composition. Its wooden top rests on a monolithic stone base, creating a strong contrast between natural materials and simple geometric form. The base features a bush-hammered finish that enhances the texture and character of the stone while reinforcing the table's sculptural presence. Monolithus combines authentic materials, essential geometry, and contemporary design in a refined architectural statement. Made in Italy.
