Disk 335

Design: Carlo Nason

Description

Two glass disks rise from a slim round base in Disk 335 by Mazzega1946, one set slightly behind the other so their outlines overlap. Their textured surfaces catch and scatter the light, while two slender, elongated glass elements at the center frame the light source and give the composition its sculptural heart.

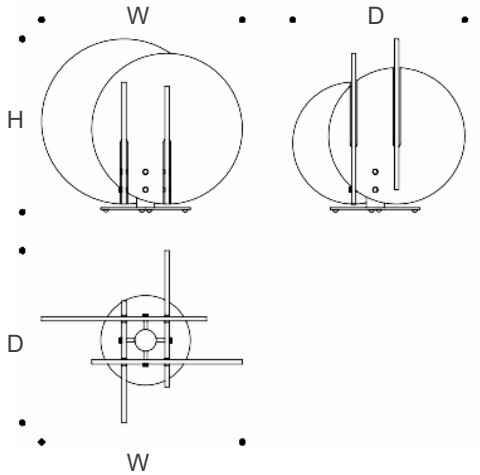

The lamp is built on a carefully matched combination of glasses, a rich interplay of shapes and materials that makes it an iconic presence on any table or console. When lit, the glass glows from within and casts soft, rippling reflections onto the surrounding surfaces.

The frame is available in brushed copper or polished bronze, a warm metallic counterpoint to the clarity of the glass. Rooted in the long glassmaking heritage of Mazzega1946, Disk 335 is a refined accent for contemporary interiors.

Made in Italy.
