

Borealis

Design: Roberto Lazzeroni

Description

Room divider with painted aluminum frame, composed of three rotating panels equipped with locking mechanisms that prevent them from closing or opening completely to maintain stability. Screen made of two-color leather bands folded into loops and sewn together by hand. The bands are available in two combinations:

- Leather on both sides, also in different colors, exclusively from the pelle category.
- Pelle plus leather on one side, anilina nubuck leather on the other side and on the vertical bands.

Available in two heights. Made in Italy.
